DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on April 8, 2004 has been entered.
2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-2 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-2 and 6-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by ROBERTS et al. (US 4,182,437).

ROBERTS et al. discloses a friction material for use in brake lining, clutch pads and the like. The reference teaches that in general, a friction material contains a matrix or binder, such as a thermosetting resin or vulcanized rubber, a fibrous reinforcement, and a friction modifier. (Column 1, lines 25-28) The reference provides an amorphous glass, which in finely divided form, is adapted for use as a combined friction modifier and reinforcing agent for friction material. (Col. 2, lines 49-53) The reference teaches the use of silicate glasses and teaches the use of SiO_2 systems with the following compositions in which Fe_2O_3 may optionally be used as a modifying oxide (refer to Column 4, lines 20-65; claim 11):

SiO_2 : 60% to 75%;

Li_2O : 10% to 30%;

MgO : 8% to 20%;

Fe_2O_3 : 0% to 5%

The reference further teaches that the glasses are smelted and fiberized and the fibers maybe either continuous or discontinuous. The diameter and length of the fibers are not at all critical and may vary widely. For example, a diameter may average from about a 0.5 micron to about 30 microns and usually is about 1.75 microns. Lengths, when continuous fibers are not used, may average from about 1 centimeter to about 50 centimeter. (Column 6, lines 64-68 through Column 7, lines 1-3) The reference further teaches that other finely divided forms can be employed such as powder or bead, which, if desired, can be fabricated from the fibers. (Column 7, lines 16-21) The reference teaches the use of an organic resin, elastomers and other additives, modifiers, filler, extenders can be added to the thermosetting organic resin. Further, the reference teaches that the proportions of these are not critical and that in general, the friction material contains in parts by weight from about 20 to about 80 parts of the resin, from about 5 to about 40 parts of the present finely divided glass. (Column 7, lines 16-65)

It is the Examiner's interpretation that ROBERTS et al. provides all the elements claimed in the present application. With regards to the inclusion of less than 10% of at least one of Al_2O_3 and ZrO_2 , it is the Examiner's interpretation that less than 10% could also be zero. Further, Roberts et al. also teaches the use of these as additives as disclosed in Col. 5, lines 23-28) With regards to the fiber diameter and length, it is noted that the reference teaches that these are not at all critical and may vary widely, as stated above. Therefore, it is the Examiner's position that the present invention is anticipated by Roberts et al.
